

2cLAST EDITION*2c

MAYOR HITS SCHOOL LEASE GRABS
U.S. SHIP AGAIN DAMAGES SUBMARINE

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 6, NO. 227

Chicago, Saturday, June 23, 1917

398

FEAR OF REVOLUTION EXPLAINS HASTE ON FOOD BILL

Big Influence Being Used at Capital to Get Some Relief to Public—Wilson Ready to Move Swiftly as Soon as Congress Wakes Up.

BY N. D. COCHRAN

Washington, June 23.—After all, what men are thinking about more than they say about is the fear of revolution. Some of them have even begun to talk aloud in congress. That explains some of the haste about the food bill. Unless something is done quickly to raise wages or cut down the high cost of living there is danger of food riots. No one knows where or when they will break out, but there is a growing fear that food speculators in their hoggishness are driving the people to desperation. Everybody in the know down here knows this.